Biography

From Safe Mothers to Saving Babies Dr. Page's impact is profound. As PI, she has garnered over $12M in active grant funding. She is the founding Director of the 'Program of Excellence for Mothers, Children and Families' to address gaps and save lives in underserved areas across Texas, the nation, and the world.

Dr. Page is the sole Advanced Practice Registered Nurse (APRN) and Certified Nurse Midwife (CNM) appointed by the Health and Human Services Commissioner to the Texas Maternal Mortality and Morbidity Review Committee, embodying the voice of CNMs serving diverse populations across the state. As the selected maternal health researcher on the Texas Research-to-Policy Collaborative, she advises legislators on health policy to advance the health of at-risk mothers across Texas.

She mentors dozens of undergraduate and graduate students culminating in 15 student-led publications in high-impact journals. Dr. Page earns high marks for teaching and created new courses for graduate nursing students, including Family Nurse Practitioner modules on maternal and women's health and core courses such as Population Health. She serves as faculty preceptor for FNP students in women's health and prenatal clinics serving Spanish-speaking and underserved women.

Dr. Page's awards include the highest honors in the profession – being selected as a Fellow in the American College of Nurse Midwives (FACNM) in 2021 and a Fellow in the American Academy of Nursing (FAAN) in 2023. She is the current Chair of the Council of Principal Investigators (CPI) at Texas A&M University, leading PIs across the university who collectively expend more than $1B in research endeavors. Dr. Page was the sole faculty recipient of the Community Engagement Award from the Office of the President at Texas A&M University.

Career Work Experience

- 2022 – Ongoing Associate Professor, Texas A&M University, Nursing, College Station, Texas
Since earning tenure, I established the Program of Excellence for Mothers, Children, and Families (POEMCF) with more than $12M in institutional, state, and federal funding. The POEMCF employs 20 full-time staff and has facilitated hands-on research opportunities for more than 50 students across levels and disciplines. My impact is recognized at state and international levels as a maternal health expert.
- 2016 – 2022 Assistant Professor, Texas A&M University, Nursing, College Station, Texas
To fully engage as tenure-track faculty, I relocated from the Round Rock to the College Station campus, leaving my Director role. My teaching, research, and service were recognized at state and national levels as a maternal health leader.
- 2014-2016 Assistant Professor of Clinical Nursing, Texas A&M University, Nursing, Round Rock, Texas

I served as the Director of Nursing Education for the Round Rock campus – the top leadership position on that campus; I led the charge to successfully increase enrollment by 50%.

2007-2013	Assistant Professor of Clinical Nursing, University of Texas, Nursing, Austin, Texas
1998-2006	Instructor of Clinical Nursing, University of Texas, Nursing, Austin, Texas
1996-1997	Affiliate Clinical Faculty, Regis University, Nursing, Denver, Colorado
